Subject: Rising incidents of spitting on newly painted murals in Guwahati

Sir/Madam,

Through your esteemed daily, I wish to express deep concern over the growing habit of spitting on the newly painted murals across Guwahati. These murals were created to beautify the city and promote cultural awareness, yet many of them are already stained with paan and gutka spit. This reflects a worrying decline in civic responsibility and blatant disrespect for public property.

Such vandalism discourages artists, wastes public funds, and lowers the city's aesthetic appeal. The authorities should install CCTV coverage, impose strict fines, and conduct awareness drives on cleanliness. Citizens
