Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma has announced a 12-point action plan to reduce road accidents, control traffic violations and improve emergency response. District-level road safety task forces will be activated as per Supreme Court directions, while commercial vehicles will be required to install speed-limiting devices, with strict action against tampering.

Enforcement drives will be intensified between 3 pm and 9 pm, targeting speeding, reckless and drunk driving. Accident-prone locations will be upgraded with better lighting, pedestrian crossings and traffic signals. The plan also envisages stricter driving tests and systematic analysis of every road accident to prevent recurrence.
