

Bogibeel Assessed for Proposed Riverine Lighthouse

The Bogibeel site in Assam has been assessed for the proposed establishment of a Riverine Lighthouse, aimed at strengthening navigational infrastructure along the inland waterways. The facility is envisaged as an important aid for vessels operating on the river.

The proposed lighthouse is expected to improve navigation, visibility and safety for vessels using the inland waterway network. The initiative highlights efforts to strengthen river-based transport infrastructure and facilitate safer movement of vessels in Assam.

APSC Relevance: Inland Waterways, Riverine Infrastructure