Bordoloi is one of the prominent names in Assamese culture and literature. She was born in Sivsagar on 25 June 1933. Her father's name was Dharmeswar sarma Bordoloi and her mother's name was Muktabala Devi. Her primary schooling started at 2 no. primary Vidyalaya, Sivsagar and high school education in Fuleswari High school, Sivsagar. After passing I. A. from Joysagar College, She achieved a B.A. degree from Handique Girls College and M.A. degree in Assamese from Gauhati University

After serving as a professor for a long time in B. Barooah College, She was appointed as professor of Assamese at Gauhati University. From this University, she retired as professor of Jawaharlal Nehru Asana.
She was mainly engaged with poems of women awareness. The foremost books of Bordoloi are – Bon foringor rong, dinor pasot din, xampipeshu, Astharanga, xudirgha din aru rati, xonboroni aai, xurujmukhi. Her song's book is Fulore melate. Her important research books are Devi, Shiva,and surjya. She was the president of Axom sahitya sabha, 1991. She had received sahitya academy award in 1983 for xudirgha din aru ritu. She passed away in 2004