In collaboration with the space agency ISRO, the Indian Railways will develop an RTIS system for real-time tracking of the train.

About Real-Time Train Information System (RTIS)

Developed in collaboration with ISRO, RTIS will help in the automatic acquisition of train movement timing at the stations, including that of arrival and departure or run-through.

It will help track train’s movement information as current as 30 seconds to railway passengers