

Telangana's historic city of Warangal was Monday named in the UNESCO Global Network of Learning Cities' (GNLC) list, along with Nilambur and Thrissur from Kerala.

This is the second UNESCO recognition for Telangana in a year's time. Erstwhile Warangal's 13th-century Ramappa temple, now in Mulugu district, last year became the first archaeologically-important site from the state to be inscribed in the UNESCO list of world heritage sites.

As per UNESCO's definition of a Learning City, a city has to effectively mobilise its resources in every sector to promote inclusive learning from basic to higher education; revitalise learning in families and communities; facilitate learning for and in the workplace; extend the use of modern learning technologies; enhance quality and excellence in learning, and foster a culture of learning throughout life.

#places in news