

What is Makhananomics?

Makhananomics refers to the economy related to Makhana, which includes economic activities related to Makhana production, processing, value addition and marketing.

According to a research estimate, the current market of Makhana in India is around Rs 8 billion.

According to a report by market research company IMARC, by the year 2032, its market will be around Rs 19 billion.